

Sopra Steria Retirement Benefits Scheme (SMP Section) (“the Scheme”)

For Pensioner members

Does my pension increase once in payment?

Your pension may be made up of several different elements. Each of these elements may be treated differently in respect of increases once your pension is in payment. The details of this were included in the retirement quotation you received when you took your Scheme pension.

What happens when I die?

Your spouse, civil partner or dependants may receive a pension for their lifetime of 50% of what your pension would have been at the date of your death if you had not taken any tax-free cash. In addition, if you die within five years of your pension commencing, a lump sum equal to the unpaid balance (ignoring future increases) which would have been paid had you survived for the five years is payable. Any lump sum can be paid to members of your family, your dependants or people named in your Will or Expression of Wish form, in such proportions as the Scheme Trustee in its discretion decides. To help the Trustee make its decision, you are encouraged to complete (and update as appropriate) an Expression of Wish form, which can be found on the Scheme’s web-site <https://www.ssrbs.co.uk/> or can be obtained from the Scheme Administrators. Please note that this Expression of Wish form is separate from and in addition to any similar forms that you may be asked to complete if you are still employed by Sopra Steria.

If you die leaving a child or children under the age of 18 (or under age 23 if they are undertaking full time education or vocational training), a pension of 20% of the above pension may be payable to the eldest eligible child with a pension of 10% being payable to the younger children (up to a maximum of 4 children in total). The children’s pensions cease when each child attains age 18, or until a child over age 18 ceases to be in full time education or vocational training, up to a maximum of age 23.

What State pension will I receive?

To obtain a State pension forecast, please refer to <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/application-for-a-state-pension-statement>. Your State pension age depends on your gender and date of birth; you can find out details of this at <https://www.gov.uk/calculate-state-pension>.

What happens if I get divorced?

This will depend on the details of any financial settlement as part of a divorce. It is quite common for a pension to be included (or taken into account) as part of any settlement. Generally, the Scheme will not provide a pension to your ex-spouse so any element of your pension that is included in a pension sharing order as part of such a settlement will be required normally to be transferred to an alternative pension arrangement.

What happens if I move house?

You should inform the Scheme Administrators. The details are included at the end of this document.

What happens if I emigrate?

Your pension can continue to be paid to you and you should inform the Scheme Administrators. The details are included at the end of this document.

What is the Lifetime Allowance (LTA)?

The LTA is the overall value of pension benefits that you can build up over your entire working lifetime without tax penalties applying.

The current amount of the LTA for the tax year 2020/21 is £1,073,100, although the Government has said that this will be increased in line with inflation each year.

All of your sources of pension income (excluding any State pension) will need to be considered at the point they reach payment, as each will use up a portion of your LTA, including the benefits payable to you under the Scheme.

The LTA is only assessed for tax purposes at the earlier of the point at which you elect to take the benefits and age 75. When your benefits under the Scheme were put into payment, you will have been advised of the portion of your LTA that these benefits used up. This will have been a portion of the LTA that applied at the time your benefits were taken, which may have been a different amount to that which now applies.

If your overall pension benefits from all sources exceed the LTA, you are liable for a tax charge on the excess. Further information on the charges that would apply is available from the Scheme Administrators. This is a complex matter and if you are concerned about whether your overall pension benefits may exceed the LTA, you should seek professional independent financial advice on this matter.

How safe is my pension?

In the unlikely event that the Company became insolvent and was unable to support the Scheme then the Pension Protection Fund ("PPF") might step in and pay compensation to members, where eligibility conditions are met. There are more details about the eligibility conditions and compensation available from the PPF on its website at www.pensionprotectionfund.org.uk.

Do I have any options as to what I can do with my pension?

Once in payment, your pension will be payable to you for the rest of your lifetime. You are not able to transfer your pension out of the Scheme once it is in payment.
